May 15 - Karen Andes

Karen Andes (PhD) is an Assistant Professor of Global Health and Behavioral Sciences and Health Education at Emory's Rollins School of Public Health. She had specialized in sexual and reproductive among adolescents and young adults in the US and Latin America for over 15 years and is an internationally known expert in qualitative research and analysis. Internationally, her work focuses on Paraguay, Nicaragua and Mexico. In 2012, she published the first comprehensive report on Hispanic/Latino health status in the state of Georgia; since 2014, she has directed the Ventanilla de Salud health outreach program at the Mexican Consulate. She implemented an innovative health training and internship program at Cross Keys High School and continues to collaborate with organizations working along the Buford Highway Corridor as the Faculty Coordinator of Emory's "University-Partner Learning Community." She was a Rotary Foundation Scholar in Liège, Belgium in 1985-86 and received a dissertation scholarship from Women of Rotary in 1993.

June 5 - Martha McGinnis

Martha McGinnis is an Eating Coach who has sustained a 45+ pound weight loss for 35 years—by NOT DIETING. She helps high achievers create a healthy relationship with food so they can get to a happy weight and stay there, reduce their stress, find freedom and joy in eating, and feel confident in their bodies.

An MBA and Certified Intuitive Eating Counselor, Martha is a VP of the Southeast Association of Facilitators, and past President of both the International Forum of Visual Practitioners and the former Atlanta Treasury Management Association.
