Justin Kier, Owner and CEO, Sxope to Speak

Management Consulting | Leadership Training

Too many decisions are made simply because “That’s how it’s always been done.” Exploring how to become a great leader with lasting impact is examining how your beliefs and behaviors are coming together. The two biggest threats are stagnation and isolation. Great results happen when you are able to see new approaches, gain new insights, and align with others that amplify your results. As a leadership coaching and consulting firm, we are committed to asking the questions that you haven’t even thought to ask. Justin has worked with teams from companies such as Delta, GA Power, Home Depot, and Chick-Fil-A, often exploring how our brains are wired and empowering people to make a difference in their organizations.
