Last Week: Music in Common – Ed Outlaw

Ed Outlaw, Past President of the Rotary Club of Peachtree City and a Board member of Music in Common, presents the cross-cultural program for making in positive difference for world peace and understanding. Todd Mack says that music is a universal language and this program has brought diverse nationalities and cultures together. Through the medium of music, a greater understanding of other cultures has emerged. Nowhere is such a result seen as in the Somali-American music project. Participants were challenged to write a song recounting their own experiences. Aaron Lichkay reports that students in his organization created a song, “Hear Our Stories—The Story in Our Eyes.” The project is certainly a step toward making a more peaceful and understanding world.
