Children and medicine. It's a controversial topic, to be sure. Millions of parents medicate their kids, having been told by a teacher or doctor that their child suffers from one malady or another. ADHD (Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder) is the big one we have all at least heard about. Some of us may even have kids with that diagnosis and provide medicine to control their unwanted behaviors.

This week, we will discuss what this diagnosis is, what it is not, and when medication is necessary. We'll also discuss when the use of medication is not necessary, and how to deal with those behaviors through structure and diet.

This is an important topic. Please come with questions!

Website

If you haven't already, and have a Facebook account, take a few minutes to find "Rotary Club of Newnan" and click, "Follow." Meetings, photos and other information is posted daily to that account.

You should also login to "newnanrotary.org," which is our local website. If you go to "club roster" you should be able to see your information. Please take a look at it and make sure it is the most updated information there is for you.
